Acupressure is an ancient healing modality based in Traditional Chinese Medicine (TCM). Though it ' s often confused with acupuncture, acupressure involves no needles, making it an easy, effective tool to use in everyday life with horses. TCM views the body as a whole, integrated system with mind, body, and spirit all being connected, and one of the foundational beliefs is that a life force, known as chi, flows throughout the body via internal pathways called meridians.
