August Heat by Andrea Camilleri, is the tenth instalment in the Inspector Montalbano series, adapted as a major BBC4 television series. Montalbano quickly slammed the trunk shut and sat down on top of it. When the beam from Livia's torch shone on his face, he automatically smiled. 'What's in the trunk?' Livia asked. 'Nothing. It's empty.'

~~August Heat - Wikipedia~~

It's August in Sicily and the heat is on Inspector Salvo Montalbano in more ways than one. Grappling with the brutal murder of a young girl, a turbulent love life, and a fruitless search for the last electric fan in town, the indomitable Montalbano approaches every situation with his customary dry wit and cynicism. Camilleri underpins the story with caustic sideswipes at the political and criminal elements of Sicilian society, which always make his books ...
