My current sheet allows manual entry of miles and i have a fomula to convert to km in E column by multiplying by 1.6093. However, we may be getting the raw data in both units so I was wandering is there a way (probably vba) where the user can manual enter a value in any of the columns and the other column will do the conversion. We use excel 2010.

In the simplest of terms, Excel is a spreadsheet application. It uses grids of cells within columns and rows to manipulate, organize, and perform calculations with data. You can use pivot tables, charts, formulas, and functions in a variety of ways. That being said, the application is not limited to numbers, although that's where it "excels."
